WHARF AND WAVE

Toyo Kisen Line America Maru's Good Passage.

SCHOONER ALICE COOKE ARRIVES

Vessels on the Earth - K. Au Hou With Mules—Custom House Changes.

The Toyo Kisen Kaisha liner America Maru docked at Pacific Mail wharf early yesterday morning after a pleasant run of nine and a half days from Yokohama, bringing Oriental news up to November 25th in the afternoon. Good weather was experienced all the way over and the new commander of the America Maru, R. H. Going, who joined the steamer at Yokohama, commences his trans-Pacific voyages under auspicious circumstances. Commander Going replaces Captain Cope, whose conduct in handling the vessel was the cause of much unfavorable comment in the Orient as well as on the Coast. Commander Going was formerly a popular master in the Calcutta trade. Pursur J. V. Comfort, a kamaaina, is on the America Maru. Mr. Isoshima of the local emigration company, and some other Japanese were among the Honolulu passengers. Among the through passengers were the Chevalier de Wouters de Oplinter, a Belgian nobleman touring around the globe; Rev. E. E. Aiken, the well-known Oriental missionary and family, consisting of his wife and three children; Mrs. C. E. Wadsworth of San Francisco, and a Russian nobleman travelling incognito as Mr. Van Grot. The America Maru brought a large cargo and 660 Japanese immigrants for this port and will sail for San Francisco at 9 o'clock this morning with a number of passengers who are booked at the local agency.

NEW CUSTOMS GUARDS.
For some time past the native customs guards have been gradually replaced by white men until now there are some eight or ten of them, the rest being Hawaiians. The espionage of the crowded harbor during the past year with all the transports going and coming has been a hard one and calls for men of the best caliber whose faithfulness and devotion to duty is beyond all question. A constant watchfulness must be exercised on all the vessels in the stream, on the shoreboats plying about the harbor, and on the island craft, as well as the deep-water vessels moored to the wharves. Among the new men lately appointed customs guards are: J. J. McGuire, H. Lubeck, A. Badger, J. Powers, E. Miller, H. Ludwig, R. Allen, W. Smith.

A VALUABLE SALVAGE INVENTION.
There was witnessed the other day in New York harbor an experiment with a new telephone device for divers. The adjustment of this device may be made to any helmet of any style, and can be detached at pleasure, so that if telephone connection with the diver is not desired, as, for instance, in getting out cargo from a sunken vessel, the unnecessary wire need not be carried for him to look after. In building a sea wall, or anything of that sort, where communication with a derrick lowering stones, or with other divers at work on the same job is desirable, the equipment may be readily attached, and thus for the first time by any device a diver in deep water may be enabled to converse with the man alongside of him. The test was made in all sorts of positions, and pronounced highly satisfactory. One curious thing about this device is that it requires no special mouthpiece for the diver; he simply talks in an ordinary tone in his helmet, which, being a sounding bell in itself, conveys the vibration through the wire as clearly as if it were a speaking tube. On the occasion referred to three or four people around the instrument on the wharf, without having it to their ears, could hear the diver talk very audibly, although he was under 50 feet of water.

QUICK PASSAGES.
PORTLAND, Or., Nov. 13.—Ship Nerelde (Ger.) reached Portland Nov. 12 after the fastest passage on record between Nagasaki, Japan, and the Columbia river, covering the distance in 29 days. The best previous run was made by bark Christine (Ger.) two years ago, in 32 days. The Nerelde's greatest day's run was 306 miles.

CLYDE SHIPBUILDING.
The new work booked by the Clyde Shipbuilders amounts to about 26,000 tons. It includes two large steamers for the Furness Line, one for the City Line, a large 4-masted sailing ship for Wm. Hamilton & Co., of Port Glasgow, a 4,000-ton steamer and several smaller vessels.

NOTES.
On the Ke Au Hou for Kauai last night were a lot of fine mules for Lihue plantation.
The steamer Kauai came off the marine railway yesterday and is being rapidly put in order for the coming sugar rush.

The American 4-masted schooner Alice Cooke, laden with a million and a half feet of Puget Sound fir, came into port late last evening after a long trip of thirty-eight days from Port Townsend. Captain Penhallow reports the usual baffling winds of the past month prevailing all the way down.

The British steamship Carmarthenshire, of the Oriental & California line, was passed by the America Maru last Saturday. She should arrive in port today with a lot of Japanese immigrants and Chinese and Japanese merchandise. From Honolulu the Carmarthenshire sails for San Diego and San Francisco.
